

Sports and Moore provides a service for young athletes looking for opportunities in the athletic world. We have been producing high definition promotional / recruitment videos for the past 5 years. The videos are approximately 5 minutes in length and may include interviews with athlete and/or coach as well as video during a game or games. The videos include isolation video of the player and not wide angled distance shots. The videos are professionally edited produced and packaged before send to the client.

These videos may be shared with teams, leagues, associations and schools. In addition, Sports and Moore at no additional charge will promote the video thru social media channels.
